Giving Families a Lift

Volunteers from FBI Philadelphia Assist Families with Sick Children

A group of volunteers made up of current and former FBI employees from the Philadelphia Field Office are dedicated to helping law enforcement families with sick children receiving treatment at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

Jim Doolin, a retired special agent in the FBI's Philadelphia office, and his wife, Ping, started Casey's Companions in 2014 after their daughter, Casey, died of leukemia in 2013. The volunteer group's mission is to help law enforcement families like the Fuccis while their kids are in treatment at CHOP.

The organization was created in memory of Casey Doolin, the daughter of retired FBI Philadelphia Assistant Special Agent in Charge Jim Doolin. In 2012, during her senior year in college, Casey was diagnosed with leukemia. She began extensive treatments at CHOP, including two bone marrow transplants. Unfortunately, Casey lost her battle. She died in 2013 at age 23. "You're in a club that no one wants to be in," Doolin said of losing his daughter. "You can let it impact you and take you down, or you can help make today a little better than yesterday for a family with a child at CHOP. We're grateful for the opportunity to honor our daughter's memory by helping children and families in our law enforcement community." While Trek has been through so much in his young life, his parents remain optimistic that his condition will improve as he grows. When Trek is older, doctors hope that he can undergo surgery and have a better quality of life outside the hospital. "Ultimately," Nicole Fucci said, "they have different theories and different ideas on how they are going to fix it; however, it's just time."

Pledge

Have you had vomiting or diarrhea in the last 24 hours?

Temperature screening employees:

Best practice: employers to take temperatures onsite with a no-touch thermometer each day upon arrival at work

Minimum: temperatures can be taken before arriving. Normal temperature should not exceed 100.4 degrees Fahrenheit

Have dedicated face coverings and dedicated gloves (i.e., only used by one person) worn by all employees, at all times

Should not be N-95 or medical variety – these should be saved for use by healthcare workers

Practice recommended social distancing to the greatest extent possible – "Further is safer"

Employees should increase hygiene practices – wash hands more frequently, avoid touching face, practice good respiratory etiquette when coughing or sneezing

All employees should stay home if feeling ill, report any symptoms of illness to supervisor and require notification of COVID-19 positive case in employee's household. Employees who are particularly vulnerable to COVID-19 according to the CDC (e.g., due to age or underlying conditions) are encouraged to stay home

Direct any employee who exhibits COVID-19 symptoms (i.e., answers yes to any of the screening questions or who is running a fever) to leave the premises immediately and seek medical care and/or COVID-19 testing, per Tennessee Department of Health and CDC guidelines. Employers should maintain the confidentiality of employee health information.

Plan for potential COVID-19 cases, and work with local health department officials when needed (e.g., monitor and trace COVID-19 cases, deep clean facilities)

Covered employers and employees should be aware of the provisions of the federal Families First Coronavirus Response Act, which allows for paid sick leave or expanded family and medical leave for specified reasons, such as for self-quarantining or seeking a medical diagnosis for COVID-19 symptoms

Update the Employee Illness Policy to include the symptoms of "COVID-19" or create a COVID-19 specific policy. All staff should sign the policy, and the policy should be posted for confirmation

Post extensive signage on health policies, including the following documents, in the workplace to help educate building occupants on COVID-19 best practices:

CDC guidance to stop the spread of germs

CDC guidance on COVID-19 symptoms

Follow sanitation frequency guidance contained in this document at all times

Provide ServSafe COVID-19 training for all food handlers as soon as possible

Consumer Protection Limit the number of customers in the restaurant to 50% of seating capacity

Tables should be spaced at least 6 feet apart

Limit tables to no more than 6 guests per table

Mark any indoor or outdoor waiting area so that social distancing standards are met (options can include a text system to alert guests of available seating, an intercom system, or only one member of a party being allowed to wait in the waiting area)

Bar areas should remain closed

Live music should not be permitted

Screen customers for illness upon their entry into the restaurant:

Best practice: Temperature checks for every customer in addition to screening questions. Customers with temperatures above 100.4 degrees Fahrenheit should not be permitted on premise.

Minimum: Question customers regarding COVID-19 symptoms

Have you been in close contact with a confirmed case of COVID-19?

Are you experiencing a cough, shortness of breath, or sore throat?

Have you had a fever in the last 48 hours?
