Listeria Outbreak Update: CDC warns to avoid all Cheese Sold Under the Brand Name El Abuelito

CDC has updated its food safety alert for a Listeria outbreak linked to queso fresco made by El Abuelito Cheese Inc.: <https://www.cdc.gov/listeria/outbreaks/hispanic-soft-cheese-02-21/index.html>

Key points:

CDC has expanded its advice to not eat, sell, or serve any cheese sold under the brand name

El Abuelito, in addition to recalled queso fresco cheese external icon sold under the brand names of El Abuelito, Rio Grande, and Rio Lindo. CDC is concerned that any cheese made or handled at this facility could be contaminated and make people sick.

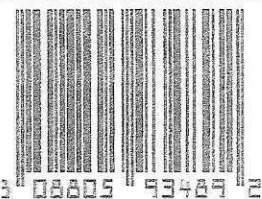

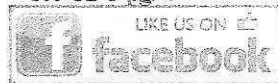

Three new illnesses were reported this week. This outbreak has sickened a total of 10 people in four states (Connecticut, Maryland, New York, and Virginia).

Nine people have been hospitalized. No deaths have been reported.

Interviews with sick people and laboratory data show that queso fresco made by

There's something in the air pushing you toward change or renewal. Is it time to change your wardrobe or redecorate your home? If so, today's the day. If you have a budget, you will find it just as fulfilling (and a lot cheaper) to rid your home of all the things that just aren't

Fire

According to District Attorney General Russell Johnson, 9th DTF, there was a fire Monday evening in one area of the upstairs level of the Morgan County Sheriff's Office, per Sheriff Wayne Potter. At his request I have asked for TBI investigators to assist in determining cause and origin of the fire. The evidence room is intact which, after the safety of any personnel, was my main concern. Sheriff Potter and the responding fire departments had every thing under control. The jail was never in danger but Sheriff requested transport buses from MCCX, which were provided by Warden Mike Parris. Thank you to everyone who helped with this situation which could've been far worse.

Revoked

Mark Hill, 41, East Hammer Road Knoxville, was charged with Simple Possession, and Driving on Revoked/Suspended License.

Deputy Rogers LCSO, observed a black truck with a headlight out traveling South on Hwy 11 in the area of Old Stage Rd. The vehicle then quickly turned onto Garnett Hill Drive and Deputy initiated a traffic stop. Upon contact with the driver/offender Mr. Mark Hill, he stated he had a Revoked License and admitted he had turned off Hwy 11 because he saw this Deputy turn around on him. While speaking with Mr. Hill Deputy observed a syringe lying in the floorboard of the vehicle. Deputy had the offender exit the vehicle and upon a probable cause search, Deputy also recovered 1 suboxone pill along with 1 gram of marijuana and another syringe in a void in the driver-side door. Loudon County E911 did advise the offender had a Revoked License and also the tag to be registered to another vehicle & owner. The offender was taken into custody for Driving on a Revoked License and Simple Possession and cited for Light Law. Deputy then transported the offender to the Loudon County Jail. Said did occur in Loudon County, TN.

CDC

El Abuelito Cheese Inc. is a likely source of this outbreak.

Connecticut officials found the outbreak strain of Listeria in samples of El Abuelito brand queso fresco cheese collected from a store where a sick person bought cheese.

What You Should Do:

Do not eat any of the recalled queso fresco cheeses or any cheese sold under the El Abuelito brand. Throw them away or return any recalled cheeses to where you bought them.

Follow these five steps to clean your refrigerator, containers, and surfaces that may have touched the cheeses. Listeria can survive in the refrigerator and can easily spread to other foods and surfaces.

About Listeria:

Listeria can cause severe illness (known as invasive listeriosis) when the bacteria spread beyond the gut to other parts of the body.

Pregnant people typically experience only fever, fatigue, and muscle aches. However, Listeria infection during pregnancy can lead to miscarriage, stillbirth, premature delivery, or life-threatening infection of the newborn.

People who are not pregnant may experience headache, stiff neck, confusion, loss of balance, and convulsions, in addition to fever and muscle aches.

Symptoms of severe illness usually start 1 to 4 weeks after eating food contaminated with Listeria, but may start as early as the same day or as late as 70 days after.

If you have questions about cases in a particular state, please call that state's health department.

Investigation Details Improper Activity by LaFollette Mayor

Mayor Michael Stanfield under indictment

The Tennessee Comptroller's Office has released the results of an investigation that resulted in the indictment of LaFollette Mayor Michael Ray Stanfield last September. The investigation was completed in conjunction with the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation.

Stanfield, who has served as the City of LaFollette's mayor since 2008, has misused city personnel and equipment throughout his tenure.

Numerous witnesses told investigators that Stanfield has brought non city-owned equipment, such as lawnmowers and chainsaws, to the city's Public Works Department for city employees to repair. Some of the repairs were done using city time and/or equipment. Mayor Stanfield acknowledged that he ran a side business repairing small engines that was unrelated to his position with the city.

On September 2, 2020, Mayor Michael Ray Stanfield was indicted by the Campbell County Grand Jury on seven counts of official misconduct, one count of retaliation for reporting to the Comptroller, and one Misty Rigopoulos, 46, Taylor Road Oak Ridge, was charged with DUI, Simple Possession, and Violation of Implied Consent.

Officer K. Russell LPD, was dispatched to Weigel's at 12350 HWY 72 N for a welfare check on a female that was asleep in a car. Upon arrival, Officer met with Reserve Officer Pat Brooks who stated a person was asleep inside the vehicle. A white Toyota (TN Reg:63FF880) was parked in front of the store. A female, later identified as Ms. Rigopoulos, was slumped in the drivers seat. The engine was running and the keys were in the ignition. When awakened, Ms. Rigopoulos stated that she lived in Oakridge and had been to the Methadone clinic in Chattanooga where she received a dose at approximately 11:00 hours. Ms. Rigopoulos was very sleepy and kept nodding off, her speech was very slurred and she was confused. When asked where she was, she stated Oak Ridge. She was very slow moving, taking almost ten minutes to put on her shoes. Ms. Rigopoulos was asked to take a standardized field sobriety test in which she stated she could not because of neuropathy in her feet. A administered two verbal tests to her, she could not complete either. A pill, later identified as a 2mg Xanax was found inside the console near her seat. Once placed inside the patrol car, she kept falling asleep, Officer attempted to awaken her more than twenty times. Ms. Rigopoulos was transported to Fort Loudoun Medical Center where after being read implied consent, she refused to submit a blood sample.

Officer then transported her to the Loudon County Jail.

Horoscopes

"you" anymore. Surround yourself with things you love.

Aries 3/21-4/19

The good news is this - it gets better. There could be some trying times in store, Aries. If you're a parent, the children will ask for something every five minutes, and you may feel pressure from all sides. Not even your love life is immune from the doubt that seems to hover over your head. No compromise is possible for you, Aries. Just sit tight and know that calmer days are coming. Taurus 4/20-5/20

Today rethink all the social values you take at face value. Like the rest of us, you learned them at an early age and accepted them unthinkingly. Established concepts of propriety are especially deserving of consideration. After hearing for years about all those things that "just aren't done," isn't it refreshing to think that maybe they should be done after all?

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Today is an ideal day to shop for a new wardrobe. You may find your usual style too conventional or uncomfortably trendy. Sometimes you reject outfits you really like out of fear they're too suggestive, old fashioned, or something else. Perhaps you should listen to your good judgment for a change instead of being so concerned about what other people might think.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

The topic of the day is knowledge and learning. Did you study the field you really wanted to? Do you feel bad about not having attended such-and-such school or program? If these issues are uppermost on your mind today, remember that your creativity has little to do with the degrees you hold. It has everything to do with how you use your skills and knowledge to better the world.

Leo 7/23-8/22

The planetary alignment is favorable, and you're in the process of reaping the benefits. Leo. It was only a matter of becoming aware of and settling certain matters related to your need for social recognition. Don't be so hungry for approval, Leo. Everybody contains a stern inner parent and can survive comfortably in total self-sufficiency. In fact, it's your greatest strength.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

You may feel hemmed in by the role models society currently offers. As you struggle to reach your own definition of the truly innovative achiever, other people sometimes criticize your rather liberated attitude. Just because your ideas aren't in sync with theirs in no way invalidates them. If your ideas are too radical, theirs are too conventional. There's room for both viewpoints. Libra 9/23-10/22

The results of the recent planetary influence are coming home to roost, Libra. If everything went according to plan, you gained some insight into your ego. Buddhist wise men say that the path to spiritual fulfillment lies in knowing how to build a healthy ego while developing a part of oneself completely foreign to the ego. Are you working hard at this? Scorpio 10/23-11/21

A small crisis is still a crisis, isn't it, Scorpio? You can expect one in your personal life today. Since you aren't the kind of person who lets issues go unresolved, you won't be able to put off dealing with your problems any longer. Are responsibilities shared equally with your partner? Are you each making an equal effort to maintain harmony? Asking the questions is the first step to answering them.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Something has to change. You knew it as soon as you woke up this morning. Your mirror provides the impetus for important resolutions today. Is it time to begin a diet, commit to exercising more, or strengthen your resolve to quit smoking? Anything you do to improve your appearance will make you feel a lot better about yourself. Buy some new clothes or get a haircut. People will notice.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

The only good thing about being on an emotional roller coaster is that you never feel the same way for long. One moment you're up, the next you're down. You can't figure out what it is you want. Rather than drag your loved ones along on the ride, get away from your usual environment. You will be a lot better off alone. And something more important may come out of these moments of solitude!

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

You might want to check your alarm clock to be sure it really woke you up this morning. Your tendency today will be to stay in the cocoon of your little dream world, deep in your own thoughts. Obsessive thoughts, in particular, will try and drown out some more pressing issues from the past that need resolution once and for all. Ring! It's time to wake up!

count of misrepresenting information to the State Auditor.

The investigative report also notes the City of LaFollette paved a former councilman's private driveway in 2018. The former councilman has since voluntarily reimbursed the city for the cost of paving.

"It's important that city officials understand what's proper and take steps to prevent misuse of city employees or equipment," said Comptroller Jason Mumpower. "In this case, the former Public Works Department management knew about the mayor's actions and allowed it to take place. All officials must understand their responsibility to Tennessee taxpayers and provide the proper oversight."
