CDC Issues Updated Guidance on Travel for Fully Vaccinated People

Today, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) updated its travel guidance for fully vaccinated people to reflect the latest evidence and science. Given recent studies evaluating the real-world effects of vaccination, CDC recommends that fully vaccinated people can travel at low risk to themselves. A person is considered fully vaccinated two weeks after receiving the last recommended dose of vaccine.

Fully vaccinated people can travel within the United States and do not need COVID-19 testing or post-travel self-quarantine as long as they continue to take COVID-19 precautions while traveling – wearing a mask, avoiding crowds, socially distancing, and

The Words of a Killer

How the Unabomber's Writings Helped Lead Investigators to His Door 25 Years Ago

No two people write alike.

It was something Terry Turchie, the lead FBI agent on the UNABOM Task Force, remembered a creative writing teacher saying to him in school. Although that advice came many years before Turchie was investigating a serial bomber, it would prove crucial to solving the case.

The Unabomber began his campaign of violence with a package bomb he left in a parking lot of the University of Illinois' Chicago Circle Campus in 1978. He would go on to place a bomb on an aircraft and leave others in university buildings and by computer stores. He would also mail powerful bombs to a number of university professors and to businesses and executives. He unleashed 16 bombs that killed three people and injured nearly two dozen before he was arrested on April 3, 1996.

Despite being active for nearly 20 years, the Unabomber was meticulous about leaving no evidence that could Christina Devaney, 33, Clear Branch Road Loudon, was charged with Simple Possession, and Poss. Of Drug Para.

Daniel Carver, 40, Circle Drive Loudon, was charged with Driving on Revoked/Suspended License.

Deputy Green LCSO, observed a white Lexus traveling south on Hwy 11. Deputy recognized the driver to be Daniel Carver. Using prior knowledge that Mr. Carver's driver's license was revoked, Deputy conducted a traffic stop at Brentwood Place. Deputy made contact with Mr. Carver (Driver) and Christina Devaney (Front Right Passenger) and confirmed his driver's license status to be revoked for DUI out of Loudon County on 10/08/2008. Deputy requested consent to search the vehicle in which Mr. Carver granted. Upon search Deputy recovered a purse containing a small make up bag containing several prescribed medication bottles. At the bottom of the bag were four loose blue pills and cut straw with a white powder residue. Using a pill identifier the pills were determined to be Clonazepam which Ms. Devaney did not have a prescription for. Ms. Devaney stated she received the bag from her cousin but did claim ownership of the cut straw. Ms. Devaney was taken into custody for Simple Possession of Schedule 4 and Unlawful Drug Paraphernalia. Mr. Carver was taken into custody for driving on a revoked driver's license due to his extensive driving on revoked history. Both subjects were transported to Loudon County Jail without incident. All the above did occur in Loudon County, TN.

Robert Lambert, 33, Washington Ave Athens, was charged with Contraband in a Penal Institution, Poss. Of Drug Para., Driving on Revoked/Suspended License, Financial Responsibility Law, and Simple Possession.

Deputy Rogers LCSO, observed a vehicle moving at a very slow speed on Steekee Rd in the area of Corinth Church Rd. While observing the vehicle Deputy made note that the vehicle swerved over the center line multiple times and did not have a light illuminating the registration. Deputy initiated a traffic stop in the area of Steekee School Rd and made contact with the driver/offender Mr. Robert Lambert 5th who admitted he was swerving and stated he did not have a valid license. Loudon Co.

E911 confirmed his license to be Revoked for DUI and a Full Extradition, Warrant for Dangerous Drugs out of St. Tammany Parish, LA. While speaking to the offender Deputy smelled an odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle.

Mr. Lambert did also give consent to search the vehicle at which time Deputy did recover a marijuana bowl, multiple baggies with marijuana 'shake' and observed the drug throughout the floorboard of the vehicle. Cpl Frye, also on scene, stated he could smell marijuana coming from the offender's person and the offender was asked multiple times if he possessed any illegal drugs on his person. Deputy took the offender into custody for Driving on a Revoked License and the active Warrant and transported him to the Loudon County Jail. Once at the jail Corrections Deputy Whitfield recovered 2 grams of marijuana in the offender's anus.

Deputy did also charge the offender with Simple Possession and Introduction of Contraband and also cited him with Drug Paraphernalia and Financial Responsibility. Said did occur in Loudon County, TN.

be traced to him and took pains to avoid being seen.

"He was the most careful serial bomber anyone had ever seen," said Special Agent Kathleen Puckett, who worked on the UNABOM task force and led efforts to profile the bomber. (Both Puckett and Turchie are now retired from the FBI.)

But when the bomber began communicating, first in letters to some of his victims and then with the media, Turchie said he was also inadvertently communicating with the FBI. Investigators were analyzing his every word.

"We didn't have any line to him except the letters he started sending in 1993," said Puckett. "It was a bonanza of information." The letters pointed investigators to ideas he held, topics he studied, and books that were meaningful to him. To Puckett, who was working toward her Ph.D. in clinical psychology, they revealed things about his education, age, and personality.

After lethal bombings in 1994 and 1995, the Unabomber wrote to several publications asking them to publish an essay that he believed would memorialize his achievements and his ideology. Although the bomber promised to cease his bombs if his writings were published, FBI leaders pushed for publication with a different goal in mind: using the Unabomber's own words to identify him.

"Somebody would recognize this," Turchie said of the decision. "The writings were very passionate—that there's no question this man really believes in what he's writing here. So he probably held these beliefs his entire life."

Theodore "Ted" Kaczynski terrorized the nation for nearly 20 years, planting bombs that killed three Americans and injured many more before his capture in 1996.

"He was the most careful serial bomber anyone had ever seen." Kathleen Puckett, special agent (retired), UNABOM task force Puckett pointed to very particular spellings and phrases—such as the British spelling of the word "analyse"—as unique identifiers in the text that she hoped would catch someone's eye.

Sure enough, a few months after the manifesto was published, a lawyer representing David Kaczynski called the FBI. He provided them with a 23-page essay his client's brother, Theodore Kaczynski, wrote in 1971. The agent who first read it immediately spotted similarities.

Turchie said that when he got a copy of the essay, the phrase "sphere of human freedom" jumped out at him. He said he went back to the Unabomber's manifesto and found this line:

"We are going to argue that industrial-technological society cannot be reformed in such a way as to prevent it from progressively narrowing the sphere of human freedom."

The similarities in the texts along with other evidence that came to light as agents investigated more of Kaczynski's past and records made Turchie more and more certain that they had their man. "The little things started adding up," he said. "Several of us believed we had identified the Unabomber."

That was enough to get a search warrant for the rustic cabin in Montana where Kaczynski lived. Among the evidence found in the cabin were thousands of pages of Kaczynski's handwritten notes, including confessions to all 16 bombings. His words helped agents find him, and they helped prosecutors build the case against him.

washing hands frequently. "With millions of Americans getting vaccinated every day, it is important to update the public on the latest science about what fully vaccinated people can do safely, now including guidance on safe travel," said CDC Director Dr. Rochelle Walensky. "We continue to encourage every American to get vaccinated as soon as it's their turn, so we can begin to safely take steps back to our everyday lives. Vaccines can help us return to the things we love about life, so we encourage every American to get vaccinated as soon as they have the opportunity."

Because of the potential introduction and spread of new SARS-CoV-2 variants, differences in disease burden and vaccines, and vaccine coverage around the world, CDC is providing the following guidance related to international travel:

Fully vaccinated people can travel internationally without getting a COVID-19 test before travel unless it is required by the international destination.

Fully vaccinated people do not need to self-quarantine after returning to the United States, unless required by a state or local jurisdiction.

Fully vaccinated people must still have a negative COVID-19 test result before they board a flight to the United States and get a COVID-19 test 3 to 5 days after returning from international travel.

Fully vaccinated people should continue to take COVID-19 precautions while traveling internationally.

The guidance issued today does not change the agency's existing guidance for people who are not fully vaccinated. Unvaccinated travelers should still get tested 1-3 days before domestic travel and again 3-5 days after travel. They should stay home and self-quarantine for 7 days after travel or 10 days if they don't get tested at the conclusion of travel. CDC discourages non-essential domestic travel by those who are not fully vaccinated.

Horoscopes

yourself as the important person that you are. Believe in yourself and your rights and opinions. Indecision could hinder your actions. Don't let it. Take an active stance at all times. Be brave in the face of hardships that you might confront today. You will be greatly rewarded when you do.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Make sure you keep up your end of the bargain today, Taurus. People are counting on you whether you realize it or not. You may get the idea that you can sneak out of responsibility if you lay low and not say a word. The fact of the matter is that people are watching you and they will know when you haven't upheld your promises to the group.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

You may feel tension in your world today without really knowing why, Gemini. This feeling of conflict may have your stomach in knots, making it difficult to deal with anything or anyone in a rational manner. Try not to take everything personally when people disapprove of your actions. Their reaction is to your behavior, not necessarily to you as a person.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Don't downplay your abilities now, Cancer. You're on the brink of greatness, so act like it. Things should go quite well if you let them. Don't clog up the works by thinking that you're unworthy of the good luck that is sure to come your way. If things don't work out exactly the way you want them to, take it as a sign that the situation wasn't right for you anyway.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Take a leap of faith today, Leo. Consider taking two or three. Trust that things will follow through perfectly. You will be drawn to those who put a smile on your face. These are the people you need to stick close to now. A positive attitude will lead you in a positive direction. Have fun with your life instead of getting depressed by it.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

When others can't seem to decide which way to proceed, it will become crucial that you stand up and be the deciding force, Virgo. Be as aggressive as you need to be today in order to set things in motion. The elements are already in place. What's needed now is a bit of follow-through. You're in the perfect position to provide this missing piece of the puzzle.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Your head may be going in a thousand different directions today, Libra. You may not have much time to stop and think about your next move. Things will come up suddenly and you will need to be able to react quickly. The faster you move, the less time you will have to react. For this reason, you may want to consider a side route where things are flowing a bit more slowly.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

You're apt to feel emotionally brave today, Scorpio, so take advantage of this feeling by extending it to the people around you. Try not to get anxious or jump ahead of yourself. Enjoy where you are at this very moment. Don't get stressed about things you feel you need to do. Be happy with yourself regardless of what you end up accomplishing.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Your biggest dream is in front of you, Sagittarius, yet there's a large object standing in your path. When you peer around one way, the goal is only partly visible. When you peer around the other way, the other side of the dream becomes clear, but you still don't have the complete picture. Instead of working with obscured vision, get rid of the thing that's lying directly in your path.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

Luck and prosperity lie within your grasp now, Capricorn. The only problem is that you might not notice because you're so caught up in some emotional drama that occupies your entire being. Don't concern yourself with issues that don't directly pertain to you. Your time and energy are too precious. Keep your mind focused on your biggest goals.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

You may fall into a bottomless pit today, Aquarius. Be careful about offering so much of yourself that you drain your internal resources. You might think other people will be equally generous about offering themselves to you. Don't assume this. You're better off assuming that you will get nothing in return. Play your cards from this standpoint and you may be a bit more conservative.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Don't just talk about grand trips around the world - start planning them, Pisces. If you don't start saving your resources and reserving blocks of time for your dreams, they may never come true. Today is a good time to set things in motion. Your attitude is likely to be more flexible, and you will find that this way of thinking will bring you to the people and places that can help you the most.
