February Shootout With Police Determines Woman Shot Herself in the Head

The Loudon County Grand Jury heard testimony from a TBI Agent and others regarding an incident involving Loudon County Sheriff's Office Deputies on February 3, 2021, at a residence located at 310 Waller Street in Lenoir City which was being occupied by Tracy Walter-Hensley. This incident was investigated by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI) after a predication for the investigation of the incident as an Officer Involved Shooting (OIS) was issued by District Attorney General Russell Johnson.

The testimony and presentation to the Grand Jury by the lead TBI Agent and others is summarized herein below:

The 310 Waller Street residence was the subject of a Loudon County Delinquent Property

Tax Sale. John Missine was the successful bidder on this property at said tax sale that was held in October 2019. Hensley was one of the prior owners of the 310 Waller Street property. Hensley was unsuccessful in trying to redeem the property within the one-year period of redemption afforded to her after the Order Confirming Sale was filed on November 6, 2019. Missine successfully petitioned the Loudon County Chancery Court for a Writ of Possession which was issued in early December 2020. Loudon County Sheriff's Office (LCSO) Deputy Craig Brewer is the deputy who normally serves process and writs for the LCSO.

Sometime after the writ was issued, but before February 3, Deputy Brewer had attempted to serve the Writ of Possession upon Hensley. Hensley refused to vacate or even accept service of the Writ of Possession, stating that she would essentially resist all law enforcement attempts to evict her. On February 3rd Brewer returned to the 310 Waller Street residence along with his shift supervisor Sgt. Brian Smith and LCSO Lt. Michael Watkins to effectuate the eviction

Former Chattanooga-Area Public Claims Adjuster Sentenced For Mail Fraud

On August 4, 2021, Benjamin Reichel, 55, was sentenced to serve 54 months in prison, followed by three years' supervised release, by the Honorable Curtis L. Collier, in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga.

In November 2020,

as part of a negotiated plea agreement, Reichel pleaded guilty to felony mail fraud charges. According to court records, Reichel operated a Chattanooga-area business known as Loss Recovery Specialists ("LRS"). LRS held itself out to be a public claims adjuster licensed by the State of Tennessee to negotiate with insurance companies on behalf of homeowners and others who had suffered property damage.

When homeowners reached out to Reichel for help, Reichel fraudulently diverted his clients' funds for

Shootout

of Hensley with the Writ of Possession.

Deputy Brewer had gathered informatoin from the three-deputy team before returning to the residence, learning that Hensley might have a .380 Bersa handgun from a previous LCSO traffic-stop type of incident with Hensley.

He knew that she had a dog(s) that might be aggressive. He knew that she had possibly resisted law enforcement in the past as there had been a prior incident between Hensley at Lenoir City Police Department outside of her residence.

Both Brewer and Smith were armed with .40 caliber service handguns. Both had body worn cameras. Watkins had a taser, but no body worn camera as he was an officer not usually making arrests.

The three deputies entered the residence and were immediately confronted by a shepherd-type dog(s). Watkins activated his taser to make a clicking noise to scare away the dog(s). As they made their way into the residence, Hensley was determined to be in a back living room area of the residence. Deputies continually announced their presence and eventually encountered Hensley verbally, then visually.

There is a minute or so of shouting bac and forth between Hensley and deputies.

Hensley is refusing to come out as deputies tell her that they have to serve the writ, that she has legal options to try and contest the eviction after they execute the writ and they plead with her to come out. Hensley is seen in a doorway armed with a handgun. Deputy Brewer dives for cover behind a bed. Hensley shoots. Brewer returns fire along with Smith. The deputies recover and they immediately shout for "Tracey". Watkins had Shootout etd. from pg. 2 removed himself to get a rifle immediately before the 'shout out'.

All three deputies retreat from the house calling out for Hensley, asking if she is hurt. They set up a perimeter, along with other local responding officers, until Blount SWAT is called and responds after a period of some time. SWAT takes over the perimeter and initially sets off a flash bang to see if Hensley will respond. There is no response so SWAT then send in a remotely controlled robot with video which shows Hensley's body on the floor in the living room area where deputies last saw her. SWAT then enters with EMS and determines Hensley is deceased. SWAT and EMS withdraw. The Medical Examiner is called and confirmed that Hensley is deceased. She appears to have a single gunshot wound to the head and one in her upper right arm.

The autopsy determines that Hensley died as a result of a contact gunshot wound to the left side of her head above her ear. The shot travels at a downward angle towards the back, lower right side of her head. The wound characteristics confirm that it was a contact gunshot wound as there is a skin abrasion showing that the gun was directly in contact with her head. The autopsy report includes toxicology that determine there was methamphetamine and buprenorphine in her system.

It is unable to be determined at what exact point between the confirmation and SWAT and EMS entering and finding Hensley deceased that she shot herself. It could have been almost immediately or sometime after. The deputies were outside and under stress of the event trying to call for backup, attempting to estabhis own personal gain. The United States argued at sentencing that, under Reichel's scheme, rather than using the funds to repair his clients' homes, he used the money to pay for, among other things, a babysitter, massages, the lease on an Audi, personal vacations, and a swimming pool, impacting a number of innocent victims.

Reichel will be required to make restitution of over $850,000 to his victims.

The charges resulted from an investigation conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the United States Postal Inspection Service, the Cleveland Police Department, and other local law enforcement agencies.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Kyle J. Wilson represented the United States.

Deputy JC Schultz LCSO, and Cpl B Smith LCSO went to Wilson Rd to try to arrest Mr. Dustin Collins on Two warrants out of Knox County, Deputy went to the front door and Cpl Smith went to the back door. Upon knocking and announcing "Sheriff's Office, Dustin come out!" the door swung open and Deputy announced again. go with it. Don't fight against the wave of unconventional support that's brewing at your back door. There's a great deal of potential energy at your disposal. The only thing keeping you from harnessing it is your own mind. Don't be so scared of that which can actually help you out. Open your mind and let the new into your life.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Today is a great day for you. You should communicate a lot, Virgo. Talk in riddles and say your sentences backward. Be fanciful and outlandish. Most of the information will be relayed in a nonverbal manner. Let your wild side shine through. Wear the wackiest thing in your closet. Don't give in to the social norm just because it's the thing that has been done repeatedly.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Your emotions and fantasies are strongly tied today, Libra. Let your feelings revel in a surreal state. Let your daydreams filter into your decisions. You might feel electricity in the air, so go with it. There's a great deal of creative energy available to you that's extremely potent. This energy has an activating effect that will help you get off the couch.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

You should enjoy a good mood today, so head toward something you believe in, Scorpio. There will most certainly be a magical element to this day that you should not only believe in but also encourage. Miracles are possible if you believe. Let your fanciful mind realize something out of thin air. Lean toward the new and unconventional. The times are changing rapidly.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Not much will happen until you decide to give up a few vices that have a serious effect on your well-being, Sagittarius. Realize that if there are certain things that control you, you don't have complete control over your life. Try not to fight this truth. Simply accept that these things exist in your world, and understand that you can coexist without having to surrender to their power.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

This is a whirlwind day for you. You will finally feel like you're getting things back on track, Capricorn. Any lag you've felt in the past few days will be eliminated. Your engine is in high gear. You have more of a sense of what you want. Don't be so concerned with how you're going to get it. Focus more on defining it precisely.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Try not to rock the boat too much today, Aquarius. Hold fast to your point of view, but don't get down when other people don't share your sentiments. You might feel the urge to snap at people, but realize that you're probably better off holding your tongue. Let your daydreams carry you away from the present reality. Your imaginary world will be your closest ally.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Let the child within come out and play, Pisces. Return to and relish your most primal state. Some of life's most important lessons are the ones you learned when you were a child. Return to that state of mind and embrace the simplicity of life you experienced then. Life is only complicated because you make it so. Remember what it was like to live without care and live that way again.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Try not to be a stick in the mud today, Aries. Other people aren't going to want to take the time to drag you along. Take the initiative. If you want to have fun, create it. The biggest part of this equation is your attitude. Other people can sense your jealous nature, so don't think you're fooling anyone. Let others live their lives. You need to concentrate on your own.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Be a little selfish, Taurus. Be honest and straightforward with what you want. There's no need to beat around the bush simply because you want to spare someone's feelings. You will do everyone a favor by laying it out clearly. Refrain from playing mind games just to see how much you can twist people into knots. Such actions will later come back to haunt you.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Your dander might be up today in reaction to someone's strong opinion. You don't want to back down, Gemini. The fire burns hot within you. Use this power wisely. Try not to use it in an aggressive, manner toward those you don't want to offend. Watch your back and keep your energy pure. You have the power to affect quite a number of people.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Move boldly toward your dreams today, Cancer. Your sense of reality may not be perfectly in tune with the actual situation, but don't worry about it. Put wings on your shoes and fly into the stratosphere. Push the boundaries. The only way you're going to grow is if you go beyond your normal mode of existence. This is your day to soar into the great beyond.

lish a perimeter and determine if Hensley was hurt, still inside the residence or outside the residence. No other gunshot is heard or picked up on any video-audio.

The victim was armed with a .380 Ruger handgun that was sold in Florida in the 1990's. It is undetermined how the gun ended up in Hensley's possession. Hensley and both Deputies Brewer and Smith were using the same manufacture (Hornady) and type of ammunition which made forensic analysis somewhat difficult.

Based upon the totality of the circumstances of the situation, the video camera footage and the autopsy report, the Loudon County Grand Jury voted to accept District Attorney General Russell Johnson's determination that there was no need for further investigation or any criminal charges.

The Grand Jury was told about one of Hensley's daughter's written request to the District Attorney to try and prevent the release of the body worn camera video as she did not want to have to see the video on news media, social media or otherwise showing her mother's last moments.
