When members of the Pennsylvania Amish and Mennonite communities were offered the opportunity to invest with someone they knew and trusted, many jumped at the chance.

Philip Elvin Riehl, an accountant in Berks County, Pennsylvania, claimed he would invest their money in local businesses, offering a solid return.

But in reality, Riehl was not licensed to invest people's money, and he also did minimal research on the companies he was loaning money to. For example, he loaned much of the money he received to a failing creamery that went out of business, leaving investors with nothing. He also forgave loans if borrowers left their faith, making it impossible for the money to be collected.

"He was essentially a broker between a borrower and a lender," see Ponzi pg. 4

said Special Agent Michael Mocado, who investigated this case out of the FBI's Philadelphia Field Office.

About 400 Amish and Mennonite families, many in Pennsylvania, lost a combined $59 million.

Riehl's entire scheme is what is commonly referred to as affinity fraud, which typically involves investment scams that prey upon members of identifiable groups, such as religious or ethnic communities. These types of scams exploit the trust and friendship that exist in groups of people who share common interests or beliefs.

Riehl's operation started small, as he was trying to invest enough money to buy home. But as more and more people heard about what he was doing, more wanted to invest.

Because of their religious beliefs, many in these communities often do not pay into Social Security, so some members seek out their own opportunities to fund retirement. Because many of the victims were investing for the long term, they often didn't ask for their money for years. So they saw statements that showed their money was doing fine, when it had actually been invested in failing businesses and was gone.

"Riehl was a well-known member of the community. He did people's taxes year after year. They knew and trusted him," Mocado said.

"One of the victims ... lost everything. Unfortunately, that happened to so many people."

Michael Mocado, special agent, FBI Philadelphia As the losses snowballed, the Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities began to investigate and notified the FBI of possible criminal fraud.

After the investigation, Riehl pleaded guilty to conspiracy and fraud charges in February 2020. In July 2020, he was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Many victims told investigators they forgave Riehl, even though he took so much from them.

"One of the victims transferred all of her money out of a traditional 401k and gave it to Mr. Riehl to invest for her. And she lost everything. Unfortunately, that happened to so many people," Mocado explained.

He noted that the churches asked for donations to help some of the victims, especially the elderly ones who have little time to recover financially.

Investors should always do their due diligence in making investment decisions, assuring anyone investing their money is licensed and regulated.

"A lot of these investors sent in a check, without asking a lot of questions. It's important to ask lots of questions and know exactly what's happening with your money," Mocado said.

Horoscopes

ever subject interests you. You can also expect to meet some intriguing new people who may be a bit weird but nonetheless could become close friends. If it isn't too dangerous, walk home after class. You'll need to clear your head so you can sleep.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Friends, group activities, and social events could take up a lot of your time today, Scorpio, so expect to spend your day interacting with people. They could range from any kind of social, ethnic, educational, or national background. You'll probably find the day interesting, entertaining, and gratifying. You could also make some new friends and meet at least one potential love partner.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

This could shape up to be a busy day, Sagittarius. You're concentrating on two things. The first is working with computers and other technology, possibly in a creative capacity. The second is interacting with a lot of new people. Your contact with these people could be very pleasant and quite stimulating, so make the most of the opportunities.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

Today you should feel excited and enthusiastic about life in general, Capricorn. Your mind might jump from possible creative projects to philosophy, travel, distant places, and you may consider all of them to be the focus of potential future activities. Romance could also be on your mind, but not in an obsessive way. Entertain yourself in a lighthearted manner.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

You might host a gathering of friends and neighbors interested in astrology, tarot, numerology, or other forms of psychic focus, Aquarius. You'll probably enjoy yourself, both because of the information discussed and the camaraderie between you and your guests. This might have been planned as a one-time thing, but everyone will have so much fun that you'll plan another meeting.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

This could prove a busy day for you, Pisces. You may attend at least one party, or perhaps just meet with a group of friends for drinks or dinner. On this occasion you're apt to find the banter and camaraderie shared with people you care about not only stimulating but also relaxing. You could also receive a lot of useful information.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Some extra income could come your way through the use of computers or other technology, Aries. You should have a busy day, but you'll like what you do and be excited by the prospect of the extra money. Though you might not be thinking about it now, what you're doing could develop into a lucrative business, eventually bringing you to the question, what do you really want to do with your life?

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Are you interested in video or computer games? If not,

Taurus, someone close to you may be, because all signs are that you might spend a lot of time now in the company of friends entertaining yourself with technology. This could be more enjoyable than you expect. You like being with these people and basking in their energy. The conversation will be interesting, too.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Today you might entertain a houseful of astrologers, with a few psychics and healers thrown in for good measure. Your head may spin as a result of all the concepts discussed, as if your brain can't process the information quickly enough. Don't despair. You're absorbing more than you think you are. After everyone leaves, take a walk or you won't be able to sleep.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

A lot of activity could take place in your neighborhood today, Cancer. If you live in a major city, perhaps a movie or news event is being filmed nearby and the crowds are gathering. Don't be too shy to go out and see what's going on. If you don't live in a city, this could be something more innocuous. Either way, expect some excitement.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Making use of state-of-the-art technology to increase your income could take up your time and energy today, Leo. Obituaries

Christian Jean Jules Michel June 12, 1951 – September 10, 2021

Kind. Lovable. Funny. Smart. Positive. All of these words described Christian Michel, age 70, who died on September 10, 2021, peacefully at home after a long battle with Parkinson's Disease. He was a loving son, brother, cousin, uncle, husband, father, colleague and friend. No one has a bad memory with Christian in it. He was a brilliant physicist and one of the internationally-known pioneers to advance PET/CT imaging. He built up the PET research lab TOPO at the Catholic University in Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium, and then went to work for CTI (later Siemens Healthineers) in Knoxville, TN to make PET/CT scanners work better for patients in the clinics. He loved comic books (like all good Belgians), Belgian trappist beers (see his picture!), good food and was a master joke-teller. Being with Christian was always a pleasure.

Left behind to remember him fondly are his wife of 24 years Anne Smith, Lenoir City, TN; son Alexander, Salt Lake City, UT; daughter Alice, serving in US Navy; brother Claude Michel (Martine) and sister Jacqueline Michel Bonte (Jean-Pierre), all living in Belgium; several nieces and nephews; and scores of good friends and colleagues. He was preceded in death by his parents: André Michel and Lise Paimpairet, and both sets of grandparents. Christian's remains have been cremated and will be spread under his beloved rhododendrons at home. A marker will be placed with his and his wife's name at Lakeview Cemetery in Lenoir City, TN.

Christian would not want anyone to be sad by his passing, but rather to celebrate him and honor his memory by having good Belgian beer, cheese, chocolate and telling jokes and stories. A Celebration of Life will be held on Sunday, December 19th, 2021 at the venue Lighthouse Knoxville with virtual attendance possible for his Belgian and world-wide family, friends and colleagues. Please contact his wife for details and to RSVP. We thank his healthcare team for the wonderful care Christian received over the years, and Amedisys Hospice for their prompt and comforting care at the end of his life. One of Christian's and his mother's favorite charities is Doctors Without Borders, so please donate in his memory in lieu of flowers or other gifts.
