CDC updates consumer mask website to emphasize protection, fit, and comfort

CDC has updated our consumer webpage describing the types of masks and respirators used to prevent the transmission of SARS-CoV-2. Masking is a critical public health tool to prevent the spread of COVID-19, and it is important to remember that any mask is better than no mask. To protect yourself and others from COVID-19, CDC continues to recommend that you wear the most protective mask you can that fits well and that you will wear consistently.

The updated page will lay out the protection provided by available masks and respirators, noting that some provide better protection than others. These updates to our webpage reflect the science on masking, including what we have learned in the past two years, and will provide people the information they need to improve how well their masks or respirators protect them. We will continue to share the science of masking as it becomes available.

Theft

Clinton Wilson, 38, Ashville Hwy Strawberry Plains, was charged with General Session Capias, Theft of Property x2, and Convicted Felon in Possession of Firearm.

Sgt. Detective A. Parton LCSD, received a call from victim who was at Parkwest Hospital in Knoxville. He said that he made a delivery to the hospital and left his car running outside. When he went outside he realized that someone had stolen his 2007 Black Mercedes E350. There was a tracking device that was in his car and his boss was able to see its current location. Detective asked victim if he had reported the car stolen to Knox County and he said he had reported it to their dispatch and he was waiting on an officer to arrive to take a report. He said that the car was at the intersection of Watkins Road and Simpson Road and it appeared to be sitting still. Victim told Detective that there was a Taurus 9mm in the driver side door panel that belonged to him.

Detective contacted Dep. J. Shultz who was working the lower end and asked him to be on the look out for the vehicle. Detective asked victim to call Loudon County Dispatch and provide them with any updated locations if the vehicle were to move. Dispatch advised that the vehicle had moved and was located at Oonaga Way in Loudon. Dep. Shultz went to the address and located the vehicle with a male sitting in the driver seat. He gave verbal commands for the driver to exit the vehicle and then placed him into custody. The male was later identified as Clinton Wilson. Det. arrived on scene and made contact with Knoxville City Dispatch and confirmed that the vehicle was stolen out of their city but it had not been entered into NCIC. Det. observed a green backpack in the passenger seat of the vehicle and the Taurus 9mm behind the center console. Det. called victim and let him know that we have his vehicle and asked him to come to the scene to retrieve his vehicle.

During the phone call Det. asked victim if the backpack belonged to him and he stated that it did not. Mr. Wilson was transported to the Loudon County Sheriff's Office by Dep. Shultz. Once victim arrived on scene, Det. asked him to go through his vehicle to see if anything was missing from it. He said that he was missing $60 dollars, the tracking device, and a gold #3 pendent. Det. released the vehicle back to victim and went to the Loudon County Jail to see if Mr. Clinton had these items in his possession. Det. recovered the tracking device and the gold #3 pendent and returned it to victim.
